

BIG REVIVAL IS TO BE CLOSED ON SUNDAY EVENING

Woman Centenary Worker Delivered Address at Methodist Revival On Thursday Evening.

The whole service at Third Street M. E. church last evening was given over to Mrs. F. I. Johnson of the Centenary Area office at Columbus, Ohio. And a wonderful service it was! Mrs. Johnson is without doubt one of the very best women speakers that has spoken in Maysville. And she had a message worthy of hearing. As a keen observer of world conditions, and as interpreter of these conditions from the view of the Christian church she is truly a wonderful woman. For over an hour she reviewed world conditions and the great task the church has before it. She emphasized most forcefully the fact that there was but one hope for the world—the Christ. As she portrayed the needs of the world and the danger of the church neglecting these needs one could not help but be convinced that she was right. She made an earnest appeal for volunteers for the life service work of the centenary. At the conclusion of her address, by the aid of the stereopticon she showed the pictures of a multitude of young men and women who have gone out within the past year for Christian service as a direct result of the centenary. This, she said was the answer the Methodist church was giving to the world's call for help. She paid splendid tribute to other denominations that were sending out large numbers. While perhaps a few were disappointed in not hearing Rev. Overly but this disappointment was more than overcome by hearing this noted woman.

This evening will be the last week night service of the revival. Rev. Overly will preach. There will be no service on Saturday night, but on Sunday Rev. Overly will give the church a full day. The meetings will close Sunday night.

Buy furs from reliable stores. That's where we buy ours. Merz Bros.

BEAUTIFUL EAST END HOME CHANGES HANDS

Mr. George Pollitt Purchases East End Home Which Has Recently Been Completely Overhauled.

Through the Thomas L. Ewan real estate agency, Mr. George Pollitt this morning purchased from Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Antle their beautiful home in East Second street adjoining the "Little Brick Church." The price paid was not announced but it is understood it was a handsome sum.

This is one of the most complete homes in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Antle only recently find the entire house overhauled and every known modern convenience has been installed. Each and every particular has been carefully looked after until the residence as completed is indeed ideal.

Mr. and Mrs. Pollitt expect to move to their new home in the near future or as soon as Mr. and Mrs. Antle can give them possession.

Not many left of those dainty flesh crepe de chine and satin camisoles for 95 cents. Hunt's.

Mrs. Harold D. Bentley, of Medaryville, Ind., arrived Thursday, for a visit with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. John Mullen.

Buy an aero car for the kids, $4.95 at Merz Bros.

BIG APPLE SALE.

We have a car of fancy York Imperial apples, at foot of Limestone street, $1.75 per bushel this week and next. 17Dec21 GORDEN & GOLDENBERG.

Navy blue or black silk sweaters $3.50 at Merz Bros.

See our line of Sheffield silver sandwich dishes, cheese and cracker dishes, bread and cake trays, vegetable dishes, water pitchers, meat platters, sugar and creamers, all in nickel silver. Sheffield. Murphy the Jeweler. 17Dec21

White or flesh batiste envelope chemise and night gowns, hemstitched or embroidered, $1.98 and $2.50. Hunt's.

GETTING READY FOR OPENING OF SEASON.

Preparations are being made for the opening of the Maysville tobacco market by the big buyers who operate here. Mr. Theo. Kirk, of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, was here Thursday in a conference with the buyers and executives of the local branch of that company.

FEWER BUT BETTER SCHOOLS URGED FOR STATE

State Superintendent Colvin Says Fewer and Larger Institutions in State Would Release Funds And Aid Efficiency.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 17. — Fewer, larger and better schools are needed in Kentucky and county boards of education created under the new school law in Kentucky are being urged by State Superintendent George Colvin to decrease the number of schools and apply funds to make those remaining as highly efficient as possible.

It has been a practice in the past, he asserts, in a communication to the boards, to multiply schools and divide the revenue, sometimes to secure votes and sometimes to please individuals in the district.

In many of these districts the superintendents say, the population does not justify a school, calling to the attention of the officials the clause in the state law which says that "every school district in the state must contain not fewer than fifty white children of school age."

"It should be the policy of your county board to reduce the number of schools in your county," the superintendent wrote. "We do not need more schools, but fewer, larger and better schools. Sometimes the best way to reduce the number of schools is to consolidate; sometimes, however, consolidation is not practicable and then the better plan would be to assign the better plan would be to assign your children in these small districts to neighboring districts. By reducing the number of schools in your county you will at the same time reduce the number of teacher situations; by reducing the number of teacher positions you will save the money spent on teacher salaries. This money can be used to increase the salaries of remaining teachers and increased salaries will enable you to employ more competent and better qualified teachers."

He expresses the hope that the boards will visit every school and study the needs and that they will favor consolidation wherever that is possible.

"An actual test," he continues, "will demonstrate the fact that child in the fifth grade in a one-room, one-teacher school is no better prepared than a child in the third grade in a school having four or more teachers, although the child in the fifth grade has two years advantage of the child in the third grade. Wherever consolidation is not feasible, then you should strive to have the one-teacher school standardized."

"Solid Comfort" Isn't that what you get in a good old pair of soft warm easy slippers, in front of the fire place after supper? A special table at $1.98. Merz Bros.

GETS JUDGMENT FOR DAMAGE TO MULE.

A jury in the Mason Circuit Court yesterday gave Mr. William Tolle of the county, judgment for $70 against Frank Stahl. Mr. Tolle lost a valuable mule some time ago which was injured when Mr. Stahl's automobile struck the animal on the highway.

Knit of softest white wool and daintily trimmed are these infant's sacques at $2.98 and caps at 79 cents. Hunt's.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS THAT WILL BE APPRECIATED.

Bedroom slippers, house slippers, evening slippers, dress shoes, red top rubber boots. Guess at the size, we will make that right after Christmas. BARKLEY'S SHOE STORE, Inc. HARRY BARKLEY, Pres. 17Dec21

Satin Camisoles 98 cents. Crepe de chine bloomers $2.50, crepe de chine gowns $5.95. Merz Bros.

WANTS RELEASE FOR THE NAVY.

James C. Cole, who ran away from home and enlisted at Maysville in the Navy at Hampton Roads. His parents are making an effort to have him released as he was under age and enlisted without their consent. — Manchester Signal.

Don't fail to get one of those beautiful cases of French Ivory. We engrave the ivory in colors to suit you. Your ivory is not complete if it is not engraved. We don't make any charge for engraving and enameling. Murphy the Jeweler. 17Dec21

WIDOW OF CAPTAIN BAY DIES AT HUNTINGTON.

Mrs. G. W. Bay, aged 75 years widow of the late Captain Bay died at her Huntington home Thursday morning.

She was the mother of Minnie Bay made famous by a fast steamboat of that name. Mrs. Bay was buried at Lexington Saturday.

COOLIDGE IS INVITED TO SIT IN CABINET

President-Elect Expects to Make the Vice Presidency an Office of Consequence.

Marion, Ohio, Dec. 17. — Vice President-elect Coolidge was invited formally yesterday by President-elect Harding to sit in the Cabinet consultations and take an active part in shaping the policies of the coming administration.

The invitation was extended at a conference here at which Mr. Harding's suggestion the two talked over in detail the question of Cabinet appointments and planned for an association of nations and many other problems involved in the assumption of executive authority on next March 4.

Governor Coolidge indicated that he would accept gladly such responsibilities as his chief might suggest, and after the conference both expressed warmest gratification over the results of their talk. The Vice President-elect declared that he was particularly pleased with the progress made in the association of nations conference and Bishop Collins Denny has been invited to attend.

Mr. W. W. Ball, a leading banker of Maysville, Kentucky, and a prominent layman in the Kentucky Conference, has accepted the appointment as Conference Financial Director in the Christian Education Movement. Rev. O. B. Crockett at the last session of the Kentucky Conference was appointed Educational Secretary for that organization.

The schools in Kentucky will be benefited by plans now underway are, Kentucky-Western College, Winchester, Ky.; Logan College, Russellville, Ky.; John Locke College, Elkhorn, Ky.; John C. C. Mayo College, Paintsville, Ky.; Lindsay-Wilson Training School, Columbia, Ky.; Marvin University School, Clinton, Ky.

The Southern Methodist church has entered upon a movement not only to strengthen these schools in Kentucky, but also its two universities, thirty colleges, 22 junior colleges, 26 academies, 3 missionary school, a total of 88 institutions. Besides strengthening these schools, leaders in the movement are confident that at least 5,000 young men and women will pledge themselves to devote their lives to the ministry, to missions, or to some other form of Christian service and to seek a Christian education as a preparation for effective life service.

GETTING READY FOR CHRISTMAS SUNDAY CONCERT.

The Maysville Boys' Band is hard at just now getting ready for the big free concert to be given at the Washington Opera House on the Sunday after Christmas. It is promised that the band will give the public some surprises and especially the members of the new band.

Exquisite flesh glove silk bloomers, camisoles, vests and envelope chemise. Always an acceptable choice for intimate gifts. Hunt's.

MR. PERRY HILL WILL BE BURIED HERE.

The funeral of Mr. Perry Hill, formerly of this county, who was accidentally killed on his farm near Ripley, will be held from the home Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The body will be brought to Maysville by automobile and burial will be made in the Maysville cemetery.

We have just fourteen of the famous Rainhard Table Lamps that are priced 25% under the market. They won't last long. Electric Shop, Maysville Gas Co. 15Dec21

MISS COOPER STRICKEN.

Miss Hattie Cooper, local seamstress, was stricken with paralysis last night and is reported to be in a critical condition.

Monogram belt buckles, Waldemar buckles made to order in gold or silver. If you need something of that kind now is the time to place your order for Christmas. Chas. W. Traxel & Co. 8Dec21

You're safe in buying neat tasty colors in a man's tie. We are featuring a special at $1.00 in a Christmas box. Merz Bros.

The Ideal Christmas Gift—Hoover Cleaner. Electric Shop, Maysville Gas Company. 15Dec21

READY NOW—READY NEXT WEEK—THIS IS THE STORE.

D. Hechinger & Co.

DR. WINNES RESIGNS AS STATE VETERINARIAN

Accesed Veterinarian Resigns Protesting His Innocence of Murdering Miss Lura Parsons.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 17. — "Until final disposition is made of the investigation of the death of Miss Lura Parsons now being made at Harlan, my sincere interest in the work of the Live Stock Sanitary Board prompts me to tender my resignation as assistant state veterinarian," said Dr. W. C. Winnes in a communication to the board Thursday.

While in the discharge of my duty" Dr. Winnes said, "I fell a victim to a most unfortunate circumstance. God knows I am innocent of this charge and a blot has been made on my good name and my loved ones at home have endured untold sufferings. I desire to thank each member of your honorable board and my many friends for the confidence placed in me especially through this strenuous ordeal of persecution. I feel confident that in due time the cloud of suspicion cast about me will be dispelled and I will be fully exonerated."

Dr. Winnes' resignation was accepted, but no successor was appointed as he will probably resume his duties with the board when the investigation is made at Harlan. He expects to spend most of his time in Harlan assisting in the investigation.

4.95 is Saturday's special in the millinery room for beautiful alligator satins and brocaded hats. Merz Bros.

PAPER IS NOT PROBATED AS MR. RUDY'S WILL.

In the Mason County Court this morning a paper purporting to be the last will and testament of Perry W. Rudy was offered for probate. Certain heirs filed objections to the paper and Judge Purnell sustained their objections and refused to probate the paper. An administrator of the estate will be named.

Merz Bros. are cutting the prices on coats and dresses.

Come in and help us spread the Christmas spirit—we're going to open a keg of—nails. In fact we open one every day. At the big Square Deal Store on Square Deal Square.

The Hoover Cleaner brings joy every day in the year. Why not make her happy? Electric Shop, Maysville Gas Company. 15Dec21

A new line of furs at old line prices. Thirty cents pound. Traxel's. 13-10 at Merz Bros.

SALES LADIES WANTED.

Must be 16 years of age. L. R. Steel Company, Inc., Maysville, Ky. 15-31

MANY WILL SEE OLD SANTA CLAUS HERE ON NEXT FRIDAY

Committee of Business Men Receive Names and Addresses of Many Poor Kiddies—Names Should Now Be Sent Business Men.

More children will probably shake Santa Claus' hand and receive candy and toys from his pack at the Business Men's party to be given next Friday afternoon at the court house than have ever before taken part in this big annual event.

The names of many poor kiddies who would not likely have a visit from Santa unless these business men made the arrangements, are coming in rapidly to the managing committee who are acting for the big hearted merchants who have gone down into their pockets to pay Santa's expenses at this big party.

Details of the party are being worked out by the committee which is being helped by a committee of local women. They are anxious that no poor child shall be left out of this party. The purpose of the party is that there shall not be a child in Maysville or vicinity who will awaken on Christmas morning to find an empty stocking. The City Mission and other charitable organizations are looking after the needs of the older citizens but the business men want to see the kids have their toys and candies just like they had them when they were little boys with big eyes and tight hearts on Christmas morning.

Every citizen who knows of a poor child in their community who should attend this party is asked to write the name and address on the slip of paper and turn it over to any member of the committee. These names may be left at the E. A. Robinson & Company cigar store or at any of the newspaper offices and they will be placed in the proper hands. Do it now or some child's little heart may be sad on Christmas.

Start your shopping early Saturday. It is going to be a busy day at Merz Bros.

Celebrated Daniel Green's "Comfy Slippers" will make an acceptable gift. We have them in all colors.

15Dec21 BARKLEY'S SHOE STORE.

Black heatherbloom skirts with fancy flounce, $2.98. Prettily tucked white satin skirts $2.50. Hunt's.

SALES LADIES WANTED.

Must be 16 years of age. L. R. Steel Company, Inc., Maysville, Ky. 15-31

THE HOME OF QUALITY CLOTHES

With This MERRY CHRISTMAS Stock

THE MAN DOES NOT MATTER

HE MAY BE YOUR HUSBAND OUT OF WHOM YOU CAN'T RAISE A HINT,—OR YOUR 16-YEAR-OLD SON WHO IS AS FULL OF WANTS AS AN EGG IS FULL OF MEAT.

THE MAIN THING IS THAT EVERY MAN ON YOUR LIST MUST HAVE A PRESENT HE WILL LIKE—ENJOY AND APPRECIATE.

AT THIS STORE THE SELECTIONS ARE OF SUCH VARIETY THAT YOU CAN CHECK EVERY NAME OFF SATISFACTORILY.

READY NOW—READY NEXT WEEK—THIS IS THE STORE.

THIS IS THE REAL CHRISTMAS STORE!

WITH OUR ENTIRE ORGANIZATION BENDING EVERY EFFORT TO MAKE YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING PLEASANT AND CONGENIAL EVEN IN THESE BUSY DAYS.

FOR MEN.

Eagle Silk Shirts, $5.95.

Best $1.00 Ties that are made.

$1.50 Silk Sox $1.00.

$1.00 Wool Socks, 60 cents.

Shaving Sets $1.50, $1.98.

AMONG THE TOYS.

Baby Grand Talking Machines, $5.00 and $9.95.

Parcheesi Games, $98 cents.

THE DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER

Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday By
THE LEDGER PUBLISHING COMPANY
At the Public Ledger Building, East Third Street.

CLARENCE MATHEWS Editor and Manager.
Entered at the Postoffice, Maysville, Kentucky, as Second Class Mail Matter.
RATES IN ADVANCE: By Carrier or Mail, $3 per year; $1.75, Six Months;
40 Cents per Month.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

TARIFF CLINIC SOON.

The Ways and Means Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives is to be commended for planning an early consideration of the tariff question. No definite action can be taken until the special session has been convened in the spring, but action will be hastened by hearings which are to be held, beginning in January, on the various schedules of tariff legislation under Republican principles. The purpose is to impose import duties which shall represent at least the difference in cost of production in the United States and in foreign competing countries. There is no purpose to impose a prohibitive import duty except possibly in some particular industry which is vitally important for the welfare of the country and which experience has shown is endangered by "dumping" practices followed by our foreign rivals.

The measure of protection needed by any industry is a question of fact which must be determined by taking the testimony of men in a position to speak with authority. Undoubtedly the Tariff Commission has gathered some facts which will be of value. These facts can not be accepted, however, without opportunity for presentation of other facts within the knowledge of American citizens who would be affected by tariff legislation.

The immense quantities of Canadian wheat which have been shipped into the United States in recent months, the importations of butter from Denmark, and of hides and meat from Argentina, wool from Australia, vegetable oils from the Orient, and cotton manufactured goods from Great Britain, are all indications of the keen competition practically all American industries must meet within the next few years. America has no desire to close her doors against foreign importations. The nation does desire, however, to impose such an import tax as will equalize conditions for the American producer, so that American labor shall not be compelled to compete at a disadvantage with the cheap labor of other countries.

It will be well if business men—producers and consumers—follow closely the reports of the hearings before the Ways and Means Committee next month. A tariff bill is to be framed in the interest of the whole country in behalf of all classes of producers and not in behalf of any one section or class. Free discussion of the subject and communication with Members of Congress by men who have information concerning costs of production and the extent and effect of foreign competition will be of assistance to Members of the Senate and House of Representatives.

HAPPY AMERICA.

The front page of every American newspaper gives daily evidence of America's happy estate. All the grave news originates in Europe. America's own contributions to the news of the world differ little from what they were before the war. Sports, accidents, eloquents, divorcees, beauty contests and the like fill the American news columns.

But, in Europe, most of the news is about the increasing difficult efforts of victors and vanquished alike to recover their strength. Happy America! Yet, but in danger, too. For Europe's present turmoil and despair point to another war as a blind gamble with fate. America, too far away to feel the fears of Europe is slipping into unconsciousness of what is going on across the Atlantic.

Another war inevitably would involve the United States, just as the last did. The question of neutral rights, by which America could swing the conflict any way it chose, would carry Uncle Sam into the fight to defend his rights against one side or the other.

It is to America's advantage, therefore, to guard against a second conflict. Whatever the points at issue in Europe, America's own self-interest requires that they be settled peacefully. Hence, America must keep watch. To return to the isolation of the years before the war will be fatal. To leave Europe to itself will be to drive Europe to war. America must prevent that in self-defense. Happy America may cause a world catastrophe, if America's desire for happiness leads to forgetfulness of the world and its terrible problems, which are still unsolved.

REPUBLICANS HANDLED THEM.

In his message to Congress President Wilson asserted that, "The nation's finances have shown marked improvement during the past year." It will be remembered that the Republican Congress, which will come to a close on March 4, has cut two and a half billion dollars out of the demands of the Democratic Administration for Federal appropriations. A million of this reduction was made during the past year. If the Republicans had granted all the appropriations the Wilson Administration asked for, the increase of a billion dollars in expenditures would have left the finances of the nation much worse off. While President Wilson did not give credit to the Republicans for this accomplishment, the voters did when the went to the polls on November 2 and cast their ballots for men whom they desired to conduct the affairs of the Government for the next four years.

In this same connection it is well to remark that the Administration has asked for appropriations for the coming year greater than the costs of the Government for the past year by something like a billion dollars. Unless the Republicans are able to cut that demand for appropriations the finances of the Government will show a worse condition a year hence.

ALL SET.

Mutual congratulations among Republican Senators and Representatives returning to Washington are combined with a determination to deserve the mandate for good government given to them by the people on November 2nd.

BARTER AND SALE THE FARMER'S WAY OUT.

Consulting the master minds of the country the President-elect is acquiring and accumulating wisdom. Incidentally, no doubt, he is developing understanding without which the others are of little practical value. Largely these accretions are being held seared in the archives of Marion. Sometimes the suggestion of some suggestion made becomes fugitive for popular delectation. Mr. Hoover has been in conference with Mr. Harding and whatever else he may have given of things new and old from the storehouse of his world-wide experience he acknowledges to one bit of advice that is practical and sound.

In Mr. Hoover's judgment stimulated purchase is far superior to paternalism in conservation of production and distribution, and in salvage for the producer. The application in point is to the plight of the farmer. The principle is as sane in application to all productive agencies. The panacea in relief for the farm, and all other congested sources of output, is through the open market place, not the halls of Congress.

SENATE WILL DO THE CONSIDERING.

Secretary Tumulty says he has been offered an appointment by the President to the chief justiceship of the Court of Customs Appeals. The position carried an annual salary of $10,000 and is for life. "I have this matter now under consideration," complacently remarks Mr. Tumulty. Unfortunately for his peace of mind the appointment, if made, would have to be confirmed by the Senate, and it is not at all likely that consent would be given for such a flagrant use of a judicial vacancy to provide a place for a political lame duck.

DENMARK DONE OUT.

It is reported from Geneva that Denmark has accepted a mandate for Armenia, but that British soldiers will be used to keep peace in that unhappy country. It is not indicated, however, whether the Danish governor, the commanding officer of the British troops, or a representative of the league of nations' commission on mandates will be clothed with authority. There is a potential clash of interests that will contribute to the final dissolution of the league.

AS BAKER SEES IT.

"We must live in the world as it is," Secretary Baker reminds us, "while we struggle to make it what it should be." He is a true internationalist to the last, but he could have better expressed the sentiments of the American people had he said, "We are glad to live in the United States as it is, while we struggle against any encroachments upon our liberties."

St. Louis Times — The simple sincerity of Warren Harding will draw to him millions who did not vote for him because they did not know him.

An Appeal

To the Republicans of the Country and All Those Who Aided Them:

The Republican success in the 1920 election has been commensurate with the quality of our candidates and the righteousness of our cause. This success is the partnership accomplishment of all Republicans everywhere and of hundreds of thousands of well-wishers of good government regardless of past party affiliations. To all of these we now appeal, because it is the mutual responsibility of us all who will share alike in the consequent mutual benefit of good government. The plan of limiting campaign contributions to $1,000, adopted by your national organization, has left your party unmortgaged. It has been a most advanced step in placing the business of politics on the highest plane, and has brought an interest on the part of thousands who never before have been concerned with politics.

Some weeks before election it was apparent that the expenses provided for in our budget, with the strictest economy, would exceed the contributions, but we were unwilling either to leave undone any legitimate effort essential to complete success or to change the method of raising money. We were then sure and we are now sure that every Republican desires that the expenses of the campaign be distributed in this manner.

Your presidential campaign this year cost no more than that of 1916, when a dollar went nearly twice as far as it does today.

Four years ago the bulk of the campaign fund came from 750 contributors, while this year the approximately $2,000,000 contributed to date for the presidential election has come from 50,000 givers.

The victory won, the raising of the deficit would be easy, indeed, if your committee were willing to abandon the policy of keeping down the average of contribution. This we are determined not to do. It was a fight of all the people. The result speaks for itself. It lifted a burden from the minds of millions and points the way to better and happier days. We ask now for that additional help from all which is merited both by the successful conclusion of the effort and by the consequent contribution to the welfare of all of our people and the glory of the nation.

Let us now have help from every American who is grateful for the victory and all that it means to the country. It might well be in the nature of a thanksgiving offering for the return to a certainly safe, sane, constitutional progressive government.

Let us by general and generous giving put the seal of approval upon the policy of putting a national administration in power free from any possible embarrassment of special obligation to any man, man or group of men. Let us make the contribution, whether large or small, and whether or not we have heretofore given, commensurate with our means and our appreciation, always within the maximum limit heretofore fixed.

Let us get our names on the cornerstone of a sturdier political structure, upon the roll of those who have helped make possible a campaign of which, in methods and result, we may as Republicans and patriots be justly proud. Most earnestly we urge that this be given quickly, that your committee may be enabled to discharge the party's obligations and turn to further constructive work in behalf of party and country.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE,
Will H. Hayes, Chairman.

Checks should be made payable to Fred W. Upham, Treasurer, or James O. Blaine, Jr., Eastern Treasurer, and sent to the Committee's Office, 19 West 46th Street, New York City, N. Y.

ALL SET.

License Notice

ALL LICENSES EXPIRE DECEMBER 31 and become due on January 1st of each year, as follows, with penalty of 10 per cent. after February 1st, 1921, attached for non-compliance.

All who require a license and fail to take them out will be prosecuted for doing business without a license.

Advertising, per annum $ 25.00

Astrologers, per day 5.00

Auctioneers, per annum 5.00

Auctioneers—Commission charged on various items.

Automobiles for hire—

2 passenger car, per annum 5.00

1 passenger car, per annum 10.00

In excess of 5 passenger car, per annum 15.00

Automobile Garages, per annum 25.00

Automobile Paint and Repair Shop, per annum 10.00

Automobile Trucks—

1/2 to 1 ton capacity, per annum 7.50

1 to 2 ton capacity, per annum 10.00

2 to 3 ton capacity, per annum 15.00

In excess of 3 ton capacity, per annum 25.00

Bakery, per annum 20.00

Baker, Agents, per annum 20.00

Bill Posters, per annum 10.00

Boarding and Rooming House, per annum 10.00

Billiard and Pool Tables, 1 table, per annum 20.00

Billiard and Pool Tables, each additional 1 table, per annum 5.00

Billowing Alley, per annum 15.00

Bowls, Kirlies, Brass Knucks, Slung Shots, etc., per annum 15.00

Brokers & Commission Brokers members Exch., per annum 25.00

Brokers selling stock not listed per annum 200.00

Carnivals, per day 25.00

Carnivals, per week 100.00

Circuses and Menageries, per day 25.00

Circuses and Menageries, general admission 50c, per day 15.00

Circuses and Menageries, general admission 25c, per day 5.00

Each additional day less than 25c, per day 2.50

Cigarettes, per annum 10.00

Creameries and Cream Stations, per annum 10.00

Dairies 50c to $5

Dogs, per annum 1.00

Dance Halls, per annum 20.00

Dances, per night 3.00

Dry Cleaning, Pressing and Dying, per annum 20.00

Dry Cleaning Agents of same, per annum 10.00

Exhibitions, per day 5.00

Exhibitions, etc., per week 25.00

Ferris Wheels, per day 100.00

Fireworks, Air Guns, Cap Pistols, Explosive Canes, per annum 5.00

Fortune Telling, per day 5.00

Flying Dutchman, per day 5.00

Hotels, per room 5.00

Hucksters and Peddlers, per annum 25.00

Hucksters and Peddlers, from 1 ton truck per day 4.00

Hucksters and Peddlers from 2 ton truck or more than 1 ton truck per day 5.00

Hucksters, Itinerant Foot Peddler ($25.00) stock per day 2.00

Hucksters, Itinerant Foot Peddler over ($25.00) stock per day 3.00

Itinerant Peddlers, non-resident, per day 25.00

Insurance—

Life and Accident, per annum 50.00

Each Solicitor, per annum 5.00

Fire, Tornado, Auto, Boiler, etc., per annum 10.00

Plate Glass, per annum 20.00

June Shops, per annum 50.00

Laundries, per annum 20.00

Livery Stables, per annum 25.00

Lunch Stands, per annum 10.00

Manufacturers or Wholesale Dealer in Alcoholic drinks, per annum 50.00

Manufacturers or Wholesale Dealer in Soft Drinks, per annum 25.00

Manufacturers or Wholesale Dealer in Ice Cream, per annum 25.00

Moving Picture Theaters, per annum 100.00

Newspaper and Subscription News paper and Subscription Agent, per annum 5.00

Operas and Plays, per day 10.00

Operas and Plays, per day 5.00

Opera House 100.00

Post Office, per day 5.00

Parade 5.00

Pawpaw brokers, per annum 100.00

Petroleum, Gasoline, Coal Oil, etc., Sale of—

1 horse wagon or less than 1 ton truck, per annum 25.00

2 horse wagon or in excess of 1 ton truck, per annum 35.00

Petroleum, etc., store of per annum in addition to license for sale of, per annum 75.00

Graham and Whole Wheat

Jefferson Mills Made It.
IT'S GOOD--WHAT YOU WANT

New York — We are certainly becoming an industrious nation! One week a potential young millionaire refuses the millions and sticks at a job. And the next, Mrs. C. DeL. Oelrichs declares that she, too, loves work and is ceasing to be a social butterfly and become a perfume dealing bee, instead. Literally, that's it! Mrs. Oelrichs is distributing her business cards bearing the name of a trading company, and her own name, as "in charge of the retail department." The fact that her chauffeur never keeps her waiting at the end of office hours make her life more easy than those of her working companions, but it doesn't make it one whit less earnest.

A promoter must above everything else be an optimist, of course. That's his stock in trade. Which may or may not have anything to do with Lawrence A. Schaeffer having taken unto himself one dozen wives! He is locked up on a charge of bigamy but his wives already located say that's a gross understatement. Schaeffer has been a promoter of chain stores, moving pictures, and, according to his own claim, political campaigns. His wife-recruiting method consisted largely of advertising for girls to act in his picture company. Then he learned from the most encouraging looking ones who applied for the job if they had any money. If they had, their chance of becoming an actress was supplanted with the chance to become a wife of the company president.

There is a self-consciousness about the girl whose hair has just been bobbed which speaks for itself wherever you see her. One such young woman was almost wailing on the bus the other day. "I'm afraid to go home," she confided to her companion. "Jim so admired the girls at the beach last summer with bobbed hair, and I wanted to surprise him. My hat comes over my nose, and my hair isn't curly one bit. There's was; I thought mine would be. Isn't it a w-f-u-l?" Her friend was not as encouraging as she might have been. "What a chance to take with n husband?" she mused.

Are New York spring water companies facetious, or was this written in all the seriousness which it seeks to carry with it? "To our patrons! The prohibition act has created a demand for bottles. We find it necessary, beginning December 1, 1920, to make a charge of $1.50 for every five gallon demijohn or six-bottle case not returned."

It's absurd to be taken away from "life" to go to the schoolroom, declared protesting groups of girls who were taken to the Magistrate's Court the other day to explain why they were not at their books. The law requires all minors who have not finished high school to attend continuation classes at least four hours a week. Enforcement of the law was started in earnest and 75 girls were gathered in from shops, offices, choruses, caravans, all sorts of highways and byways to be told the story of the work that was ahead of them. To add to their indignation, the magistrate got irritated and told a lot of them to wash all the adornment off their faces.

Another St. John Ervine play is opening this week. The selection of the people who were enthusiastic over "Jane Clegg" and "John Ferguson" are delighted. "Mixed Marriage" is the title of the new production and it is to be put on at the Bramhall Theater, which has been the home of many unusual plays. St. John Ervine became almost the center of a cult last season and his admirers are in a mood to be pleased, almost regardless of whether he holds to his past standard or not.

A new record has been established in the office of the Health Department. A tenant has written in to beg somebody to make her landlord turn off the heat in an apartment building. It's the first complaint of the kind ever received there, says Health Commissioner Copeland.

It will be difficult to cut off immigration while this spirit rules; Orlando Sigliano, 18 years old, of Naples, Italy, came over as a stowaway. He was found when the steamer was two days out and, after a lecture by the captain, was told he would have to return to Italy. While still a considerable distance from shore he gathered together his handbag of belongings and jumped overboard. He got safely out of the Hudson River in the boundaries of Manhattan. But they found him. And now he's weeping over the prospect of being sent back.

VOGEL'S MINSTRELS WILL BE SOME-THING DIFFERENT.

John Vogel Promises His Many Lowers in This Section An Entertainment Different.

Novelties abound in John W. Vogel's Black and White Revue coming here Christmas evening.

"There is no reason," said John W. Vogel, proprietor of John W. Vogel's Black and White Revue, in a recent interview, "why there should be such a sameness as is usually found in minstrel shows. This form of entertainment offers exceptional opportunities for the presentation of new and novel features, and that is what the public demands. Theatregoers insist upon having novelty, something they have not seen before, a fact I have always considered in organizing my enterprises, which, perhaps, is largely responsible for my unparalleled success.

"This year I can assure those who go to see the Black and White Revue that they will find something really new and novel, instead of the usual minstrel program. My idea is made up of turns that are not alone new to this form of entertainment, but many of them new to this country, for they have originated and been seen only in foreign lands. My vocalists are using only the newest and most meritorious songs and they have the support of the finest band and orchestra that the country affords. The comedians, among whom are the great Morton, monologist, Dan Rice, Happy Jim Bonham, and a score of others, have appeared in the best theaters of America and are entertainers of the highest order."

One of the feature acts is that of Lester LaMonte, clever female impersonator, who has no superior in his line, with the possible exception of Julian Eltinge.

"My company comes to the Washington Opera House on Christmas evening," Mr. Vogel concluded, "and at the conclusion of the performance I think you will agree with me that my offering is a satisfying innovation, a welcome change from the cut and dried form of minstrelsy so often offered, and that it has a long, pleasure-giving life before it."

In nearly one-half the gas plants in the country gas is manufactured from oil.

Ledger Service—Efficiency.

XMAS GIFTS We Have a Full Line

FOR MOTHER AND SISTER.

PURSES.
Push, Velvet and Leather.
From $1.50 to $6.50.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Cotton, Silk and Linen.
From 10 cents to $1.00.

GLOVES.

Silk and Kid.
From $1.25 to $5.00.

UMBRELLA.

Cotton and Silk.

WAISTS.

Cotton, Voile, Crepe de Chine, Georgette, Tricotette and Satin, Less 10% Discount.

FOR FATHER OR BROTHER.

SILK SHIRTS—Worth $15, Sale price $5.

HOSEY—Lisle, Silk, 50c. to $1.00.

President-Elect Harding showed his great respect for that body in which he has been such a hard worker.

"Won't he be a better President because he has been a Senator?" asked Jack.

"Exactly, Jack. In all those things which keep the wheels of our Government moving, the President and Congress must be the last ones to decide. If they do not work together the country must suffer. If they do work together and consult each other, then the country will receive the best from both. Because the next President has been in the Senate he understands the ways in which the Senate must work and naturally when he sits in the Presidential chair he will be equipped in the best possible way to bring about peace and harmony and complete understanding.

"Now, another thing, kiddies. So long as Senator Harding has been in the United States Senate he has always insisted that the rights of the Senate should be recognized. He still thinks so, but in his speech he also showed that he is going to insist that the rights of the President also be kept in mind at all times. With such a view of the situation we should have one of the best Presidents the country has ever known. And if any of the enemies of Republicanism think they can continue to talk of the 'Senate oligarchy,' of which Gov. Cox talked so much during the campaign, they are going to be disappointed, because Senator Harding will not let the next administration be controlled by the Senate. He wants the Senate to help him as he will help the Senate, but he does not want the Senate to control the White House any more than he will try to control the Senate."

"And I want to tell you kiddies, the newspaper men in Washington are mighty fond of Senator Harding, and that means a whole lot. He talks to them just as one of them, for, as I have told you before, he is a newspaper man himself. While waiting at the Capitol in Washington on Manday, December 6, he talked to them and told many funny things about his experiences when he was struggling with his paper in Marion, Ohio, long before he even thought of being a Senator, and certainly long before he ever dreamed of being President."

"Whom did he talk to at the Capitol?" asked Jack.

"He talked with all the Republican leaders in the Senate, Speaker Gillett of the House of Representatives called, too, as did the British Ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes. In fact there was a steady stream of callers congratulating the next President and conferring with him regarding important matters."

"Can you tell us about what he said in his speech at the Senate?" asked Ruth.

"Well, certainly by this time you have read his speech. The only thing I can do is explain what his speech meant to me and what it should mean to all of us. In the first place we must remember that this is the first time that a United States Senator has been elected President, which is not only what might be called an unusual happening but one which is a step forward and in the right direction. All of us have seen what a man can do in the Presidential chair who has not had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he

had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he

had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he

had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be accomplished for the country as a whole. In his speech in the Senate, he

had the training in the big law-making body of the country and who, because of that and a stubborn will, refused that cooperation with Congress so vitally necessary if the best is to be

60% DIGESTIVE TANKAGE

R. M. HARRISON & SON

GIVE HIM

Cravats

- BY CHRISTMAS

ORDER FROM THE

STORE FOR MEN.

- WE'LL DELIVER

IT CHRISTMAS EVE

Geo. H. Frank & Co.

Maysville - foremost Clothiers.

GARRETT WANTS BIG

SUM FOR KENTUCKY ROADS.

Washington, Dec. 16. - H. Green Garrett, Winchester, delegate to the convention of the American Association of State Highway Officials, has been selected as one of five members of a legislative committee to recommend and urge the continuance of Federal aid when the present funds are exhausted.

Mr. Garrett said the committee would probably ask for an appropriation of $100,000,000, to be available for use during and after the fiscal year 1922. Kentucky's quota would be about $6,000,000, according to Mr. Garrett's statement.

Only a short time, then Christmas. Make your selections early. Will reserve any article until Christmas. Chas. W. Thaxel & Co. 8Decf

You surely can use a diamond ring, ladies' pin, ear drops, scarf pin, or a pair of diamond cuff buttons at our cut price. Call and see them. Murphy the Jeweler. Open evenings. 17Decf

ECZEMA!
Money back without question if HUNTS Salve fails in the treatment of ITCH, ECZEMA, RINGWORM, TETTER or other skin diseases. Try a 75 cent box at our risk.
At M. A. Swift. Drug Store.